My dream job

by Kaitlyn Wong

When I grow up, I want to be a traveller because I love to travel around different countries and I like writing. I will have exciting adventures and write books or blogs about them. And maybe even make friends with wild animals, like snakes, lions, bears.....

From an early age, I had my heart set of becoming a traveller.

I will need to be good at writing and I also need to practise writing more often. I will need to keep fit and be calm and positive too. Therefore, I will read more books to level up my grammar skills and read more books about travelling and adventuring. I will also learn how to climb, dive, swim and develop other adventure skills. My role model is Bern, to make my dream come true. Southall because she spent time travelling around the world and
